McCain – McLawhorn Engagement Announcement

Many things happen on top of the Currituck Lighthouse early in the morning but not as thrilling as Justin McCain down on his knee proposing to Tammy McLawhorn!

And there was someone there to catch the moment for them, no one they knew, just a passer-by. Justin handed his camera to a total stranger and asked them to take pictures for him. And what pictures they are! Tammy was taken completely by surprise.

Congratulations to both of you and all the happiness in the world now and in your future.
